Celebrating the Body Electric

Many men are searching for more meaningful erotic connections to themselves and others. As men take responsibility for their own erotic education, they realise there is more to learn about waking up and sustaining erotic energy, giving and receiving pleasure or expressing desires. Erotic exploration that includes the mind, body and heart is a lifetime journey of discovery and sustenance.

Celebrating the Body Electric

teaches men how to connect with deeper centres of pleasure in their bodies. Through stretching, breathing and touching, men learn how to awaken and sustain full-body erotic energy. This workshop lets men explore their relationship to erotic energy in a setting that is playful, safe and honouring. The full-bodied nature of this work helps men gain greater access to their emotions and their desires. Each participant learns how to give and receive a full-body erotic massage and has the chance to explore full-body orgasm without ejaculation. The effects of this work are multi-dimensional: men can explore the spiritual dimensions of erotic energy, enjoy greater self-acceptance as erotic beings, and find ways to create more deeply satisfying erotic relations with others.

Celebrating the Body Electric is designed for pioneering men who are willing to touch and be touched by other men. It is a clothes-off workshop for those who are ready to vigorously explore new levels of feeling, both within themselves and within a community of men. Because of the healing nature of eastern approaches to erotic energy, men living with HIV and men in recovery from substance, mood, and behaviour addictions are especially welcome.

Celebrating the Body Electric

offered mostly in retreat settings, is a full two and a half day workshop (5:00 p.m. Friday - 7:00 p.m. Sunday). Non-retreat workshops are 9:00 a.m. - 7:00 p.m. Sat-Sun. For current cost of workshops, check out our web page: www.bodyelectricoz.org or call your local coordinator.
